Morsels for the Mind Book Group

Date:

4-22-10

Book Title: The Bone Garden

by Tess Gerritsen

Hostess:

Nancy D.

Food Served:

baby back ribs

Wilted cucumbers

bread sticks

Cherry/berry shortcake

A buried skeleton is discovered in the garden of a home recently purchased by Julia Hamill. There are flashbacks to the 1830s where a medical student is accused of killing several people.

Review: Everyone enjoyed learning about medical procedures used during the 1830s. Most people liked the book, and would like to read other books by the author. The ending was weak as was also noted in the reviews on Amazon.

Highlights of Discussion: The autopsies done on the Cadavers that were robbed from their graves by "resurrectionists." The lack of cleanliness of the doctors as they performed examinations. The value of bleeding a patient to help them recover.

Attendance: Everyone except Mary Grant and Nancy Schellenberg.

Suggestions/Business