

Morsels of the Mind Book Group

Date: June 28, 2007

Book Title: Broken For You by Stephanie Kallos

Hostess: Nancy Schellenberg

Food served: red pepper hummus, white bean artichoke dip, pitas, hot spinach artichoke spread, blueberry sour cream cake, assorted drinks

Book Synopsis:

Margaret discovers she has a brain tumor, and decides to take in boarders in her Seattle mansion filled with priceless antiques. Wanda (Tink) and Gus change Margaret's life. Margaret and Tink come to terms with their "broken" spirits in an unexpected fashion.

Review:

all present thought the book to be thought-provoking and ripe for discussion. It contained many layers and sub-plots, which made for a lively discussion. We thought it well worth the read, and anticipate the next book from this first-time novelist.

See attached letter

Highlights of Discussion:

Nancy McQuate "cracked up" with her letter and precious porcelain fish frame shards!

Attendance:

All but Mary and Ann Starke.

Suggestions/Business

We chose new books for fall. See attached list!

Props:
Wine Bride (Tink)
and Groom (Troy)
Nancy's antique porcelain and borrowed
mosaic candle holder
(4 1/2 on Amazon)