Book Title: Death by Chocolate

Hostess: Ginny Stuart

Food served: Chocolates of all kinds! Death by Chocolate dessert served in a glass truffle dish.

Book Synopsis: A famous Cook dies of poison in her own dessert. Family members, mostly dysfunctional may be the culprit!

Review: This was labeled a "grocery store book". It had a cute title, but little real meat to the story and characterization was poor. Probably the shortest book discussion of all times.

Highlights of Discussion:

A lively discussion of Sandy's dinner party - including a "Daree" who she thought a woman, but really a man!

Attendance:

Linda Ryan, Anne Hill, and Anne Clarke were absent.

Suggestions/Business

We set a date for our May overnight in honor of Linda Ryan's retirement and move to Arizona.
