

Morsels of the Mind Book Group

Date: Sept. 27, 2001

Book Title: Saying Grace

Hostess: Nancy Dausman

Food served: Brie & crackers, guacamole dip & chips, veggies, Dove candies, California Dreamin' vanilla ice cream & sherbet in waffle bowl

Book Synopsis: Rue is the head of a private school in California. Events include happenings at school and in her private life, as well as the lives of students, staff & board members.

Review: Most enjoyed it, but it was disappointing not to know what happened to some of the characters. We didn't understand why Rue's daughter had to die, with little explanation.

Highlights of Discussion: The events of the book were true to life, both school & family; almost to the point of being depressing. Many of the events seemed to be disconnected and not brought to a conclusion.

Attendance: Nancy McQuate, Nancy Schellenberg, Sally Shumway, Linda Ryan, Anne Hill, Mary Grant, Laura Lewakowski, Nancy Dausman, Ann Starke, Sandy Oato

Suggestions/Business